

A map of the United States with 100 red stars indicating the 100th percentile of population density in 2010. The stars are heavily clustered in the Northeast corridor (from Boston down to Washington D.C.), the Great Lakes region (around Chicago and Detroit), and the West Coast (especially in California and the San Francisco Bay Area). There are also a few stars in the Southeast (Florida) and the Mountain West region (Colorado, New Mexico).
